SHORT SESSION OF BOTH HOUSES

There Was Little Done in the Legislature.

NEW RULES ON HOUSE SIDE

Both Bodies Will Meet at Noon To-Day and Proceed to Business-Mr. Mcs Lean on the Fl.cr, but Took No Par..

The session of the Legislature was brief and uninteresting yesterday. The Senate and nothing but confirm the appointment of the school superintendents, and the House did little more.

A new set of rules was adopted by the House, which had been prepared largely by Mr. John W. Williams, the very efficient clerk of the House. The journal was read at length in both houses for the first time in years.

Mr. E. P. McLean, who has apparently read himself out of office by his refusal to take the oath, was in his seat, but attempted to take no part in the proceedings.

There was a brief colloquy between Messrs. Sipe and Newhouse over the oath question, but it did not take any very bitter turn: The committees of the two branches will get to more the

The House was called to order at noon The House was called to order at noon by Speaker Ryan, and prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Russell Cecil. There was a full attendance of members and a great number of visitors were on the floor. Everybody seems comfortable, as eight new electric fans were creating kindly breezes all over the hall. Messrs. Featherston. Walker and Smith, of Lee, who were absent on Tuesday, came forward and took the oath.

Clerk Williams read the journal of fae previous day's proceedings, it having been the first time in years that such a thing was done in the House, the new Constitution imposing a different and more stringent mode of procedure for both branches.

Mr. Sipe, rising to a question of pri-vilege, said he had not protested against liam taking the oath with any view of making a test case. He asked that the formal protest made by his party be made a part of the record.

ROLL CALL DEMANDED.

Mr. Newhouse moved a roll call and an examination of the oaths and said he would object to members participating in the proceedings of the body who were not properly sworn.

He said the Republicans were getting year conselections. that they had swale

Mr. McLean sat in his seat and chatted with his colleagues, having declined to take the oath on Tuesday.

RULES CHANGED.

Mr. Hunley from the Committee on Rules, presented a number of amendment to the rules of the body, the necessity for which is occasioned by changes in the mode of procedure under the new Constitution.

pressed until the autumn session because of the attitude taken by certain members of the legislative body in the matter of taking the oath to the new Constitution. It is feared by the committee that if an appropriation should be passed now it night be made illegal later.

"We have a large majority in the House and a majority in the Senate," said Mr. Conkling this morning, "but owing to the failure of several to take the new oath, there is a legal question as to whether or not an appropriation would be legal. We will therefore not ask for an appropriation until the long session.

"We have decided to keep up the committee, and the various members from different parts of the State who came here to push the matter will leave to-day."

The appropriation asked for is $50,000, and there is every prospect that it will pass both branches of the Legislature.

The merry-go-round whirled at intervals just to keep the thing a-going, for there wasn't two dozen people in sight, while the empty cars on the switchback looked as if they were taking a Sunday rest. The waters of the Natatorium were as placid as if frozen. Now and then some one of the employes cast a pebble, but it didn't make the splash of a merry bather. The Rathskeller was forsaken, and the cozy cavern never heard the sound of clinking glasses. Over at the Aquarama the old mill wheel turned, but it didn't churn current for the gon-

Occasionally a big pionic wagon, hauled by four mules, came thundering up the road with a cargo of sightseers, who ventured out more of curiosity to see how the place appeared during a strike of the trolley carmen. They came and went on the same trip, and the familiar tune of Little Chip was all that could be heard.

CROWD NOT THERE.

Mr. Charles McKee, of the Bijou Company, who is manager of the Casino pany, who is manager of the Casino during the absence of Manager Wells, decided yesterday afternoon that it was useless to attempt any performance. He notified the performers that they had a holiday, not because he was willing, but by ironical fate. The management of the West End Park engaged a hig picnic van and this made irregular trips from Ninth and Broad Streets to the Park, carrying a few passengers. When the strike was inaugurated yesterday at noo the obliging motormen and conductors of the last cars to leave the resort told the people that they had best go to town as the strike was on and they took nd chances in waiting longer for transporta tion home.

Thus was the park emptied of all except employes of the concessions, who remained to make a futile attempt to do

In his book, "The Art of Golf," Sir W. G. Simpson tells the following pretty story as to how the game had its beginning:

"A shepherd tending his sheep would often chance upon a round pebble, and, having his crook in his hand, would strike it away; for it is as inevitable that a man with a stick in his hand should aim a blow at any loose object lying in his path as that he should breathe. Over pastures green this led to nothing; but once on a time a certain shepherd, feeding his sheep on a links, perhaps that once on a links, perhaps that of St. Andrew's, rolled one of these stones into a rabbit scrape.

Manager Thomas was not satisfied that he had brought all of his patrons into the city and after the carmen had left the cars he picked up the motor key and with the grit of an expert sent the troiley humming toward the park. Several trips were thus run, but few passengers were carried. The report that a thous-and Sunday School picnickers ers were left at the park was without any foundation. The picnic referred to occurs to-day and as the strike is now passed and the cars running again on a schedule, the event will be carried out according to the original programme. Pleasure seekers at Forest Hill Pari and at Lakeside were notified by the railway employes of the pending strike and brought to the city. Considering the suddenness of the demonstration, the little inconvenience suffered by people at the distant resorts is remarkable and can only be attributed to the thoughtful-ness of the men who participated in the strike and put themselves to the task of locating, as far as possible, everyone and informing them of the necessity to get home at once.

Henrico Notes.

At a meeting of Henrico property holders held Tuesday evening in Gifford's Hall in the county, steps were taken looking to the establishment of a new branch electric line to run from Harrison's drug store, in Fulton, to the National Cemetery, along the route of Williamsburg Avenue. Practically all of those present enthusiastically pleaged themselves to do their part in securing the railway and a committee was appointed to wait upon Mr. Fritz Sitterding, president of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, and ascertain if the company would not meet them half way.

The meeting was held at 8 o'clock and was quite largely attended. Mr. R. T.
Moncure was made charman, and Mr.
L. H. Kemp secretary. Short speeches on the matter in hand were delivered by Mr. Samuel P. Waddill, Dr. Harrison,
Dr. Long Wilde. Mr. Local Clarent John Wilde, Mr. Jacob G W. Smoot, Mr. Carleton, and Mr. Eld- out the houseware department. ridge. These gentlemen were unanimous in commending the scheme and thought the project an eminently practical and feasible one. A general belief that the railway company will look at the matter in the same light was manifested.

With a view to getting the matter properly before the authorities of the company a committee of representative residents and property holders was ap-pointed to wait upon Mr. Sitterding and lay the proposition before him with the assurance that the Hender folks mean business and will do their part. This committee is composed of Messrs. C. L. Denoon, S. P. Waddill and Farrand and Dr. R. L. Harrison, and Dr. Wilde. The proposed line, as indicated above will run from Harrison's drug store to the cemetery. It will serve to develop property along its route and will also open up to Richmonders an interesting
